Police report: Police Sargent Hagerman and Officer Foppiano were present to provide a monthly update and address questions and concerns. Maidu is considered to be a quiet and safe neighborhood. The main issues are speeding and automotive catalytic converter thefts. Attendees brought up a few topics for discussion including “side shows” involving reckless driving and police involvement with school safety. Sargent Hagerman explained the best way to respond to speeding or other traffic concerns is to report them on the Police Department’s feedback page on their website. Regarding school safety, Roseville Police Department provides School Resource Officers for each campus of the Roseville Joint High School District; active shooter response training; and a proactive “Threat Assessment” detective involved with analysis of people who come to their attention in order to take appropriate actions in advance of potential incidents. School safety was the featured topic of monthly guest speaker, Roseville City School District Superintendent, Derk Garcia.
- Guest Speaker: Derk Garcia, Superintendent Roseville City School District (RCSD). Mr. Garcia (Derk) has been the Superintendent for nine years and formerly with San Juan Unified School District. RCSD plans to open its 21st campus providing education to 21,000 students in grades P-8 including Sargeant Elementary School within the Maidu neighborhood boundaries. Demographics are shifting from east Roseville towards west Roseville creating challenges for school operations. RCSD hired a consultant five years ago to evaluate and prioritize campus security improvements. Derk described procedures and improvements that have been implemented; what they are currently working on; and future improvements subject to funding availability. He indicated there are some improvements not for public knowledge. Derk emphasized the district's focus is to address mental health issues such as preventing bullying behaviors. Over the past nine years, the district has increased the number of counselors on school campuses and encourages parents to limit and supervise children using social media. RCONA does not plan to implement metal detectors or police school resource officers (due to cost).

Visitor Forum: There was no visitor topics presented not already covered on the meeting agenda.

Minutes from prior meeting: Minutes were approved with an amendment showing Vicki Miller attended the prior (April) meeting.
